

🇬🇧 SSSSB Story 064b: Mother's love is God's greatest gift [13+ years]

A mother is another form of God. She loves her children more than anything in the world, working day and night, setting aside her own wishes, and caring with endless devotion.

One day, her little daughter asked, "Mom, you work so hard, and you always care for me so much!" The mother smiled and said, "My greatest happiness is to see you grow into a good human being—hardworking, successful, and full of good character. You are the most precious treasure of my life."

Years passed. The daughter grew up, began working, and slowly forgot her mother's sacrifices. She became busy. Whenever her mother called and asked, "How are you? What have you eaten?" the daughter would say, "I'm busy. Call me later."

Each time, the mother's heart ached, but she never lost hope. She prayed that one day her daughter would understand the depth of her love.

Eventually, the mother became seriously ill. The doctor told the daughter, "Your mother has carried much stress and sadness for a long time. She constantly worries about you. These worries have weakened her health."

The daughter's heart awakened. With tears, she embraced her mother and said, "I am sorry. I took your love for granted. From now on, I will give you the love and respect you truly deserve."

The mother forgave her with a smile. From that day, the daughter spoke kindly, helped her more, and spent precious time together. Slowly, the mother's health improved, and joy returned to their home.

The daughter also found success in her work one after another, strengthened by her mother's blessings.

She often shared her story with friends, saying: "Never take your parents' love for granted. Give them love, time, and respect every day. Do not wait, as I did, until something goes wrong. The power of a mother's love can heal and transform our lives."

And, she remembers: Mother's love is God's greatest gift—honor it every day.

Question: Do you have such experience with your parents, grandparents and elders?

Heart-Work: Try to live the values you have learned. After some time, write down your experience—how practicing these values has changed your thoughts and actions.
