

🇬🇧 Physical class game – The secret angel challenge - SSSSB story 032

Setup: Secretly choose 1 or 2 children to be the "Secret Inspectors" (given a small notepad). Scatter a few papers or books out of place around the room or ground.

How to Play

- Step 1: The Loud Round (1 Min): Tell the kids they have one minute to loudly show off how helpful they can be to win an award. They will frantically and noisily try to get noticed.
- Step 2: The Quiet Round (2 Mins): Ring a bell and say, "The contest is over. Let's return to our normal routine." Ask them to quietly tidy up and find a seat.
- The Twist: While the kids think no one is watching, the Secret Inspectors closely watch and write down who shows true discipline, lets a friend talk first, or quietly picks up trash.
- Step 3: The Shocking Announcement (2 Mins): Gather everyone. The Secret Inspector steps forward and announces the Best Student Award. To everyone's shock, the winner is not the loudest person from Step 1, but the student who did a quiet, respectful deed in Step 2 when they thought the game was over!

The Lesson: "True goodness isn't about making noise to be noticed. The real winners are those who help from the heart when no one is looking—because God sees everything!"
