

🇬🇧 SSSSB Story 053b: Whom to Listen To? [13+ years]

There were two boys from grade 7.

Boy A:

"Sometimes I don't know whom to listen to. Grandparents say one thing, parents say something different, and friends tell me something else again. What should I do? Sometimes I feel confused about whom to follow."

Boy B:

"I also have similar situations that confuse me."

My grandfather on my mother's side wants me to do a government job.

My grandmother on my mother's side wants me to become a priest.

My grandfather on my father's side wants me to join the police or the army.

My grandmother on my father's side wants me to become a teacher.

My mother wants me to be a doctor.

My father wants me to be an engineer.

My friends want me to do something in sports.

But I want to have a shop.

What should I do? How can I make everyone happy?"

The students decided first to listen to the experiences and advice of the SSSSB members, and with that knowledge and inspiration, try to deal with the situation in the best way possible.

Question and Heart-work:

What is your opinion and experience with the situation of the boys?
